The Violet Twilight
Brochure

All me to serve the Goddess by Serving you!

Welcome to Vortex Violet which is located in between where the world end & the new begins!

The Violet Twilight is a website/blog. I've had in mind to bring into the lives of those whom are in need of answers on many different levels for many years. It all began shortly after I awakened spiritually. However I knew that my time to share my views & methods relating to the subject matter need more time to develop & become grounded before I began!

A little about me, I've always experienced unexplained things ever since I can remember which was when I was 5 years old. However I never spoke of these things nor did I explore the nature of them until I could no longer ignore it or shrug it off as imagination any longer. It was around 2006 when a book of spell casting pretty much fell into my lap & ever since then? It's been on like Donkey Kong! ;) Not to say that I never faced doubt or confusion I did, perhaps even more so at times. Because when I opened my mind to it all and finally surrendered to the current of the magickal energy I felt my entire life, it was as time sped up and the experiences and spiritual occurrences increased to happening nearly everyday!

I was where many people find themselves today and that are reaching out for answers or for guidance however I wasn't so lucky to find guidance-the only guidance I had was my intuition. In the end that's truly all we ever really have. Even if you are in touch with all of your guides, Gods, or otherwise. First it takes faith in yourself and in your intuition in order to move forward and trust the feelings and impressions you receive!

That is NOT to say that I have everything figured out! Because I'm a strong believer in balance in all things! I do not believe it is possible to be all love and light, but I also don't believe it's possible to be utterly and completely evil and dark! I believe these beliefs to be closed minded and born out of fear and the need to protect ourselves or our loved ones from people who may seriously do harm to another. But we do not know why the person is being destructive in a way that we aren't in the first place and there are many reasons to why such a thing can manifest!

Though do not get me wrong that doesn't mean that I forgive everyone. As I said there must be balance! If we strive for balance then we are always asking ourselves questions and keeping ourselves in check as much as possible along with the guidance of our guides and Gods we will become more and more open towards the truth that we seek!

That being said, I believe that the teacher never stops being the student! If anything the teacher sees his/her journey as the teacher not much different from the prior journeys! What we do should never become blown out of proportion! And to say you never have can also be said by the Ego and become blown out of proportion. As you can see the Ego will try to "win" or "outsmart" anyone or anything so long as you make something a goal.

Always have a hold upon balance. There is no losing nor winning to be had! Only learning!
